

GRADUATES OF CITY GRAMMAR SCHOOLS RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

Palace Grand Was Not Large

Throng That Came

DAVID BLACK PRESIDES

Largest Class in History of Grammar Schools of This City

Big as is the Palace Grand it is not big enough to hold all who wished to enjoy the exercises in connection with the graduation of grammar school pupils last night. Quite a group of interested spectators stood at the rear of the theater to watch the boys and girls receive their diplomas.

As announced by David Black who, as a member of the board of trustees presented the sheepskins, it was the largest class in the history of the schools represented and "the most good looking class," he added, which the audience considered a bit of pleasure, nevertheless every beholder was struck with the excellent carriage, the physical development of the boys and girls, which with their appearance of health and animation one had to attribute more or less to the outdoor athletic work they have had. For the most part they were big boys and girls for their years and, as Mr. Black said, very good looking. The girls made a fine ensemble in their fresh white middie suits and purple scarfs, and they were evenly enough divided to alternate with the boys who wore purple ties, that hue evidently being the class color.

The playing of the "War March of the Priests" (Mendelssohn), by the orchestra of Intermediate, directed by Miss Brenneman, was the signal for the entrance of the graduates in two columns down the aisles of the theater. In the van were the honor pupils, who furnished the program and leading on one side was a winsome little Japanese lass to refute the charge that California has a prejudice against the people of the Flowery Kingdom.

These program graduates were seated upon the platform where Superintendent Richardson D. White and Mr. Black also sat, the rest of the 180 graduates being massed in the front seats of the middle section.

As soon as all were seated, Mr. White arose to announce the first number and express his pleasure in a program entirely the product of members of the class, who, he said, had earned their places in competition with other members. It was a program of five-minute speeches interspersed with an occasional musical number.

FINE PROGRAM FOR CLUB LUNCHEON

MISS ESTHER LOOMIS

A delightful program has been arranged for the annual luncheon of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, which takes place Tuesday. Miss Esther Loomis, lyric soprano, who came to the coast with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, will be heard in operatic arias and songs by American composers. Mrs. H. R. Boyer will be the pianist of the afternoon and Miss Anne Gonneman, an elocutionist of note, will give dramatic readings.

Government Employees Get Half-Holiday

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 18.—There was joy unrestrained in Washington today. Ninety thousand Government employees began their Saturday half-holidays for the summer. The half-holidays will continue until September 17.

COMPLAIN PEDDLERS ARE SELLING FRUIT IN BUSINESS SECTION

In regard to the sale of fruit and other produce from wagons stationed along the curb at the intersection of Brand boulevard and Broadway City Manager Watson says:

"During the last two weeks there has been considerable complaint in regard to several peddlers who have stationed their wagons at times either on Broadway or Brand boulevard near the intersection of these two business streets.

"It is contrary to the established policy of the city of Glendale to grant permits for the carrying on of any kind of mercantile business whatsoever on the business highways. Applications to establish sales stands in parkway or along the curb line in the business district are received from time to time by the board of trustees, but in all instances such permits have been denied except for permits granted for the sale of newspapers. We are quite confident, therefore, that no such privileges was intended to be granted by the terms of the present license ordinance in its provisions for granting peddlers licenses. It seems, however, that a strict interpretation of the ordinance may be construed as granting such privileges. We have, therefore, recommended to the board of trustees, as published in the Glendale Daily Press yesterday, that the ordinance be amended so as to more particularly define what is meant by peddler's license and to prohibit the carrying on of any kind of mercantile business on the public highways within the business district. In the meantime it is probable that if those to whom licenses have been issued insist on selling on the streets in the business district, we may not be able to stop them, but we are confident that the ordinance suggested will be adopted without delay by the board and that within a short time the matter will be entirely under the control of the city."

Y. L. I. CARD PARTY AND BIG DANCE

Miss Susan Wendell, who has been working so zealously to make the Y. L. I. card party and dance at the Ambassador hotel this afternoon and evening a success, will attend a dinner party at the hotel this evening, the guests being men and women prominent in society and club circles in Los Angeles and Santa Barbara. A number of dinner parties have been arranged at this hotel in honor of the occasion. Pasadena and affiliated branches of Y. L. I., together with many Los Angeles influential women's clubs, are lending their support.

CHILDREN DEPRIVED OF MILK, CAUSED BY THE EXORBITANT PRICES DEMANDED FOR THIS NECESSARY COMMODITY

The Social Welfare Council of Glendale is authority for the statement that right here in Glendale there are little children, future American citizens, who are deprived of milk, a child's most necessary food, because their mothers cannot pay the exorbitant price now demanded for it. Some of these children have no milk at all, others have not enough. One frail mother, in poor health, is trying to bring up two babies. The aid of the county and the Social Welfare Council is about all the support she has; she is physically incompetent for sustained hard labor and, besides, her babies are too small to do without her. She is in these deplorable circumstances through no fault of her own, and she is working for the state in that she is striving to rear two children who will be citizens.

If this case were the only one, it would be easy enough to provide the milk necessary for the children. But there are other cases in which the exorbitant milk prices work great hardship on our future citizens. Chief among these are the cases of the families who are in very moderate circumstances and too self-reliant and too self-respecting to parade their poverty or to accept help from others.

SWIMMING POOL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS OF GLENDALÉ IS DISCUSSED

Intense interest and determined purpose to win their cause marked the mass meeting held last evening at the city hall to discuss the project of a swimming pool for the boys and girls of Glendale.

J. A. Rhoades, secretary of the chamber of commerce, stated the purpose of the meeting. Judge Lowe and E. F. Kulp were nominated for chairman; Mr. Kulp withdrew in favor of the judge who was then elected chairman by acclamation.

Leaders were appointed in each precinct to choose their own teams to canvass the precinct to awaken interest in the bond issue for the swimming pool and to ask voters to sign cards pledging their vote to this project.

The cards are headed "Give Glendale a Swimming Pool," and they read:

"Let us keep pace with neighboring cities and offer new settlers the same as they obtain in nearby cities. Believing a swimming pool is absolutely necessary in Glendale, and believing it would greatly attract new people here and have a tendency to keep our boys and girls at home, I heartily pledge to vote and support the bond issue for the swimming pool."

Leaders in each precinct were readily obtained and it is reported from the office of the chamber of commerce this morning that they are being well received and the workers are coming back for more of them.

Judge Lowe described at last night's meeting the tentative plans for the swimming pool, explaining that it will be built according to the specifications laid down by the state board of health, and will be modern and sanitary in every way. It will be under competent supervision so that boys and girls will be safe while enjoying it.

Judge Lowe explained that the bonds run for 20 years and the assessed valuation of Glendale is $10,000,000; on this basis the additional tax for the swimming pool will amount to 2½ cents on each $100 valuation of property the first year, and it will decrease each year.

Both Secretary Rhoades and Judge Lowe spoke earnestly on the need of the swimming pool, and the shame of denying it to the children for this paltry tax.

If vim and systematic going after a thing count for anything, the swimming pool is assured.

Another mass meeting will be held on Monday evening at 7:45 in the city hall.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES FILL VACANCIES

Trustees of Glendale Union high school met again last night to consider a variety of matters, but chiefly the resignations of teachers. Miss Nora H. Parker of San Bernardino and Miss Cecil Allen, both teachers in the English department have resigned to become brides. Howard L. Butterfield was elected assistant in the department of boys' physical training, and Mr. Rolfe elected for work in the auto shop. A number of applicants were interviewed, but no action taken.

Action was taken looking to the wiring of the wood-working shops so they will be available for night classes, and proceedings were started to determine the cost of fencing the athletic field.

Governor William D. Stephens issued a statement from the state executive offices yesterday which shows his intense interest in the fight being waged against high milk prices.

"Positively there is no excuse for present high milk prices," said the governor. "There is no reason why there should be such a wide margin between the buying and the selling price of milk."

"The pity of it is that innocent children by the thousands are made to suffer for needed nourishment while milk is being allowed to go to waste. Besides, if the price could be brought to its proper level, there would be such an increase in consumption that there would be no waste of milk and everyone would be the gainer—the milk producer as well as the consumer."

"There is every reason why the fight should continue to a successful conclusion."

Governor Stephens' interest in the milk situation as it exists in Los Angeles and vicinity was first shown when he instructed George H. Hecke, director of the state agricultural department and State Market Commissioner Daniels to send investigators to look into the charge of profiteering in this section.

Under the direction of James P. Britt, deputy market commissioner, investigators from the department of agriculture have been busy for several weeks securing the facts concerning the cost of the production and distribution of milk.

The official report of these investigators will soon be ready, and it is thought by those who understand the milk situation that Governor Stephens' contention that the price of milk is decidedly too high will be substantiated.

MRS. J. I. WERNETTE IS HOSTESS TO THE FOOTHILL CLUB

At the meeting of the Foothill Club at the home of Mrs. J. I. Wernette, Friday, guests of honor were Mrs. A. J. Sanders of Balboa; Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mrs. J. F. Henry and Mrs. G. E. McIntyre of Exeter, Calif. A guessing contest featured the program of the afternoon, at the close of which delicious refreshments were served.

Ladies present besides those mentioned, were: Mrs. Everett Barnes, Mrs. G. K. Barnes, Mrs. W. H. Hewitt, Mrs. Julius Kranz, Mrs. M. J. Oliver, Mrs. William S. Porter, Mrs. Alfred Priest, Miss Ellen Williams, Mrs. E. D. Wyman, Mrs. Pierce Curtis, Mrs. William G. Cutler, Mrs. J. D. Tabor, Mrs. C. H. Crawford, Mrs. C. H. Begg, Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Miss Maude Salisbury, Mrs. J. A. Christian, Mrs. F. D. Hall and Mrs. J. I. Wernette.

The home of the hostess was beautifully decorated with gladioli and ferns in honor of the occasion.

YOUNG CRIMINAL NOW IN PRISON

(By International News Service)

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., June 17.—"Wee Willie" is once more behind bars.

And the present question agitating prison officials is whether the unusual ingenuity displayed by this 16-year-old boy in escaping from jail will manifest itself behind the bars of the state penitentiary.

GEORGE MURPHY IS CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO CARS AND INJURED

George Murphy, foreman of a local automobile concern, sustained injuries while at work this morning which were at first thought to be serious.

Murphy was working at the back of an automobile when one of the other employees of the shop ran another car into him, pinching him between the two machines. He was unconscious when extricated and was rushed to the Glendale sanitarium in the Pulliam & Kiefer ambulance. Careful examination proved that he was suffering from nervous shock, bruises and an injury to his leg. None of his injuries were considered serious.

WELFARE COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Welfare Council was held in the City Hall on Thursday evening with all members present: Mrs. E. D. Yard, President; Mrs. C. E. Kimlin, Vice-president; Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, Treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Young, Secretary; Mrs. C. S. Archer, Director.

The report of the Glendale Welfare Bureau was made out as follows: House visits, 18; interviews at office, 20; registered for employment, 18; employment secured for 14; city orders of groceries sent, 3.

The report of the Glendale Welfare Council, which is the auxiliary to the Welfare Bureau, was: 188 articles of clothing and other things valued at $132 given from the Council's supplies; canned fruit given to the value of $7.50; seven checks for relief given, amount $81.00.

Work for the coming month was planned and several new suggestions considered. Anyone knowing of needy persons in Glendale are requested to notify the Welfare Bureau.

STEPHENSON PLAN HAS GOOD POINTS

Members of the board of city trustees who met at Los Feliz road and Central avenue last night at 5:30 to consider a change in the plan to widen the thoroughfare at that point proposed by President Stephenson were much impressed with his reasoning and recommendation. For the taxpayers the compromise of throwing into the street the present parkways already owned by the city would be a much cheaper method of effecting the necessary widening and it would have the advantage of making possible the opening to a uniform width of the street clear through to its termination at Glendale avenue.

Mr. Stephenson states that the matter will probably remain in statu quo until after the election of the new City Council, who can then decide whether to continue the present proceedings or abandon them and follow out the compromise suggested by Mr. Stephenson.

WAS MARRIED FOR DURATION OF WAR

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 18.—A new variety of war romance was revealed here when Harold R. Carter, formerly of the A. E. F., charged Mrs. Margaret Lamar Carter with having married him "for the duration of the war." He sought and obtained a divorce.

Paris Tipster Arrested

(By International News Service)

PARIS, June 18.—Jean Bilgot, the itinerant rug salesman, who made $20,000 in two days at the Paris races on a capital of $10, has just been arrested for selling race tips.

Bilgot lost most of his winnings on succeeding days, but the publicity given his exploits led thousands of racetrack goers to believe that he had an unbeatable system. He explained to the police that he could not refuse to hand out "pipe lines" to friendly strangers who approached him and that when his selections finished in the money they generally gave him part of their winnings. In this way he received more than $1000 in a few days.

DAMAGE SUITS FILED AGAINST PACIFIC ELECTRIC

Parents of Miss Lindsey Seek Substantial Redress for Her Death

THREE SUITS ARE FILED

Ask $25,000 for Injuries to
Other Daughter—May Be Settled Out of Court

As attorney for the plaintiffs, Jones, Wilson & Stephenson, filed in the superior court a damage suit for $10,000 against the Pacific Electric railroad on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey, parents of Miss Eugenia Lindsey, who was killed by a Pacific Electric train at the Los Feliz road crossing in Glendale a few weeks ago.

They also filed on behalf of the same plaintiffs a damage suit of $500 for the destruction of the automobile in which Miss Lindsey was riding. A third suit for $25,000 was filed on behalf of Miss Sarah Lindsey, who was a victim of the same accident and badly injured.

The Pacific Electric will be served with summons and complaint today, but the trial of the suits will not take place for several months and in the meantime they may be settled out of court by some compromise on the part of the railroad.

PENNANT GOES TO CERRITOS TEAM

The final ball game to determine the championship between the team of Cerritos and Intermediate schools, was played Thursday afternoon and was prolonged to 11 innings. After the umpire had gone a dispute arose over the number of outs Cerritos had made. Intermediate boys contended that because three outs had been made, the winning run which Cerritos had just scored should not have counted. Quite a bit of agitation and discussion resulted. It was finally taken under advisement but no decision was made until Friday morning. Then boys of Intermediate met and decided that inasmuch as they were not unanimous in their count in the last game, they would withdraw their protest thus relieving the supervisor of the unpleasant task of deciding between the two teams. The pennant was therefore awarded to Cerritos which was officially credited with a score of 12 against 11 to the credit of Intermediate.

Supervisor Blanford was much pleased with the attitude taken by Intermediate boys in withdrawing their protest voluntarily and cheerfully.

Cerritos boys are much to be commended for they spirit they showed in holding together and playing such good games under the disadvantage of a small school with few boys to pick from as compared with the greater numbers at Intermediate.

HONOR THE FLAG

The Glendale Daily Press struck a responsive chord in its offer of a beautiful bunting flag with each yearly subscription paid in advance. All we could procure at that time were speedily taken and many applied for the flags after the supply had been exhausted. To satisfy these demands we have ordered a new supply, and these will be given on the same terms as were the first. The Daily Press is not doing this as a money-making proposition, for the flags are quite costly and the paper is worth every cent asked for it, but we desire to do our bit toward stimulating patriotism and reverence for the flag. We hope to eventually see "Old Glory" displayed in every Glendale home, and we want to do our part toward bringing this about.

Fill out the coupon below and bring it or mail it to the office, accompanied with $5 for a year's advance subscription, and a flag will be laid away for you. If in arrears, pay to date and a year in advance to get the flag.

CHANGES IN STAFF
AT GLENDALE HIGH

Some of the teachers at Glendale high are very happy over the increased salaries the board of trustees has been able to grant them. Their pay has not kept pace with the increased cost of living and it has been hard sledding for many who have families. The majority have had to find employment during the summer to make ends meet.

Mr. Wright of the wood working department is leaving. A new man will have to be engaged to take the auto department in mechanical arts. Mr. Smith will probably take charge of the shop next year and Mr. Lockwood will share Mr. Oliver's work in the drafting department where the enrollment has greatly increased.

DR. H. R. BOYER SAID TO BE IMPROVING

Reports from Dr. H. R. Boyer who was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, following injuries sustained in fall, Thursday morning, is said to be improving steadily. A consultation of physicians was held Friday morning and it was agreed that he had suffered nothing more serious than a severe wrench which may confine him to the hospital for a week or more.

HOSTESS AT PARTY TO HONOR FRIEND

Complimenting Miss Dorothy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Williams of Orange street, one of this year's honor graduates of Berkeley, Miss Grace Crampton was hostess Thursday evening at a delightful party, at her home, 325 Burchett street.

Music and games were the diversions of the evening, whose pleasures were shared with the honor guest by Misses Louise Ayala, Bertha Sayre and Harriet Williams of Glendale; Misses Mary Heidelmann, Gertrude Heidelmann and Mildred Mather, of Los Angeles; Miss Grace Daley, of Long Beach; Miss Faye Gould, who is the Cramptons' house guest, and the hostess.

The elegantly appointed dining table where luncheon was served late in the evening, was centered with a bowl of magnificent red roses and the same beautiful color note was carried out in the favors and place cards.

Lot Demand in North End

Mr. Satterthwait is building a fine six-room bungalow on Fairview avenue east of Louise street, larger than any other bungalow in that neighborhood. It adjoins the lot sold by the Glendale Realty company to Mrs. Lotie T. Logan. The realty company's representatives say there is an active demand in that locality, where they have recently sold two houses and lots on Dryden, a lot on Fairview and one on Cameron place.

"Clean-Up Day"

The full text of the communication transmitted to the chamber of commerce by City Manager Watson relative to the arrangements for Clean-Up Day is given herewith for the information of citizens:

June 14, 1921.

J. M. Rhoades, Secretary Chamber of Commerce:

Pursuant to the report and recommendation of joint committees representing the chamber of commerce and city appointed to make arrangements for general clean-up day for the range that the city will cooperate in this movement as follows:

Tuesday, the 21st instant, will be designated as "Clean-Up Day." The people of the city are requested to gather all waste matter and rubbish that is not easily combustible on their premises and place the same in the alley at the rear of their lot or place it in the street gutter on this date. City teams will gather and dispose of the same the following day. In this connection it is urged that all waste matter and rubbish that is set out to be removed be placed if possible in receptacles convenient for handling. When this is not practicable it should be placed in compact piles so as to require the least time in handling.

Your committee reported large accumulations of rubbish, tree trimmings, etc., in the alleys. It is requested that owners of abutting property gather this in piles convenient for removal. Your committee also reported large accumulations of waste matter, rubbish, etc., at the rear of business buildings in the business district. The business men are requested to have this gathered and placed in receptacles convenient for handling.

Yours sincerely,
T. W. WATSON,
City Manager.

Graduates of Grammar
Schools Receive Diplomas

The first comer was Elsie Forsythe with a very nice little speech on "El Camino Real," as the symbol of California's heritage of religion and romance with which the Franciscan Fathers, who established the missions which this royal highway connects, had so much to do. It is, she indicated, a constant reminder of the lessons of unselfish devotion to the welfare of others that Californians should never forget.

Very fresh and very sweet looked the girls of the triple trio, who at this point sang a selection from the "Bohemian Girl" (Balfé), "Come With the Gipsy Bride," and sang it very well indeed.

The third number was the "Yap Question," as presented by Joseph Forbes, who reviewed the history of the Caroline islands, the undeveloped natives and their ideas and customs, and the diplomatic controversies between England, Germany, Japan and the United States over the possession of the island which England had secretly agreed to turn over to Japan. His talk ended with the statement that the Japanese officials had lately said if England would consent they would turn over their interest in the island to the United States which desires it as a cable base, adding "Let us hope she does."

James Littell, whose theme was "The American Navy," showed a quite thorough knowledge of his subject from a statistical and theoretical viewpoint. At the rate American ships are building he prophesied that our navy will, in the course of a few years, distance that of any other nation and be the best proof of a policy of being prepared.

The violin and saxophone duet with Miss Brenneman at the piano came next, a fine interpretation of "Reverie" (Anton Gillis), by Bertha Brown and Esther Edmonds.

Kathleen Carr, the next speaker, took as her theme the popular subject, "The Growth of Glendale." Its history from the sage brush and cactus days to the present was reviewed, its improvements and advantages. She closed with predictions for ten years hence—50,000 population, several parks and a fine swimming pool, trolley lines on Pacific avenue and Glendale, a new high school. It will all ways be a city that "we boys and girls will be proud to call home."

Donald McMillan, whose theme was "Recreation Center," did some excellent promotion work for the coming bond election to provide a swimming pool, showing how important are recreational centers. In closing he said: "We, the members of this class are starting out to make the most of our lives. We will not disappoint you. Will you give us a chance? Fathers and mothers of Glendale, are you going to miss the chance to provide clean, wholesome recreation for your boys and girls?" The prolonged applause that followed the talk indicated that the audience was a unit in indorsing the sentiment of the speaker concerning the swimming pool proposition.

The eighth number was a piano solo by Audrey Haynes of Cerritos, who played very well and responded to applause with a spirited encore.

Under the theme, "Education for Women," Dorothy Godar reviewed the opportunities given women from early days when mental training was denied them to the present in which all fields are open to them. She closed with a recommendation to girls not to leave school too soon, but to go on to high school and college.

Ruth Goto, gave an excellent talk on the importance of good English which was the more effective because she is the daughter of Japanese parents. Her own thought was well expressed and her arguments were quite unanswerable.

Arthur Timothy made a most acceptable talk on "The Path of Life," and its ramifications which would lead the graduates in diverse ways from the Arctic circle to the jungles of Africa. Some will seek the path of riches, others the path of knowledge and it will be these last who leave the greatest impress on their day and generation he declared.

Kenneth Miles told of the Boy Scout organization, its origin and development, its good, efficient training, and declared there could be no better preparation for citizenship than the Scout oath.

Lucile Beach, whose talk was on "What We Owe Our School," spoke of the tremendous debt of the class to the schools of the community and the teachers who had helped its members up the path of knowledge, and of the training for citizenship they had received in their school life.

Between these numbers the Girls' Glee club, directed by Miss Brenneman and with Miss Sharp at the piano, gave charmingly the "Venetian Boat Song" (Blumenthal) and a selection from "Aida" viz., "Glory to Isis" (Verdi).

This completed the program except for an orchestral number aside from the presentation of diplomas by Mr. Black, and the preliminary speech in which he congratulated the class on its appearance (applause) on its excellent speakers (applause), declaring that the diplomas themselves, regarded merely as paper and ink, have little value, but are of tremendous worth in representing eight years of preparation from grade to grade to this point. He reminded the class that what they get out of the high school which they are about to enter, will be largely determined by what they put into it.

All the numbers were enthusiastically applauded and thoroughly enjoyed by the parents and friends of class members who made up the audience, and the interest with which the presentation of each diploma was followed showed that there was not an indifferent observer in the house.

First International Polo Contest Between England and America Since 1914 at Hurlingham Today

England Won Trophy Four Times and United States Three Times Since Competition First Started in 1886—Today's Game May Tie the Score—Unusual Interest Aroused in England—Over Today's Contest

By William L. Mallabar
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
LONDON, June 18.—"We can't say that we will win—but we'll do our best to take the cup back to America."

This is the spirit of the American polo team, as voiced by Devereux Milburn just before the first game of the championship, which opens up today at Hurlingham.

Just who will constitute the team which will represent England has not been decided even up to this last minute. The American team will, of course, be Milburn, Hitchcock, Watson-Webb and Rumsey—with Earl Hopping as substitute, if needed. W. S. Buckmaster, Major "Rattle" Barrett and J. E. Traill will undoubtedly be of the quartet which will defend the cup for England. Who the fourth member will be is not known for certain, as there is liable to be a change at the last minute, but the choice lies between P. K. Wise, Major J. F. Harrison and Colonel A. E. S. Ashton—with Wise as the favorite.

Polo has just started to be a really popular game in England. Up to now it has been looked upon as a rich man's game. Hurlingham has started to popularize the game and has thrown open its hitherto exclusive grounds to the "common people" with a charge of 75 cents for a reserved seat in a stand which will seat 10,000.

Polo an Expensive Sport.
When this was inaugurated last month at Whitsuntide the stand was packed with an enthusiastic crowd which appreciated and applauded every bit of good play. It rather startled the retired colonels and majors with their "sisters, cousins and aunts" who were used to nothing more enthusiastic than a subdued "well played" when a good shot was made, but the newspapers next day made such a feature of the crowd that it has gradually dawned upon the powers that rule the polo game that it could easily be popularized.

It can hardly be a matter of surprise that polo has been looked upon as a "rich man's game" when it realized what the mere upkeep of the sport is. It has been estimated that the total expenses connected with the recent games will amount to at least a half million dollars.

It has been figured out by an expert here that the fifty ponies which the Americans brought over for the games must have cost at least $100,000—which is only $2,000 apiece, a very conservative price for a good polo pony.

The transportation of the ponies must have run to at least another $100,000, including their forage and the expenses for their grooms.

It is no wonder, therefore, that it was necessary for the team that went to America in 1913 and 1914 to recover the trophy to be financed by two of the wealthiest men in England—the former by the Duke of Westminster and the latter by Lord Wimborne.

The defeating team, at each occasion had at its disposal the millions of Harry Payne Whitney, himself one of the best players of the game in America and—necessarily—a very rich man.

Americans Good Sports
It is hardly possible that Lord Rocksavage will have recovered from the fall he got with Webb in the trial game on May 16, in order to compete in the championship matches to-day. His pony was thrown by Webb in a collision and before it got to its feet managed to step rather heavily on Rocksavage's collar-bone, dislocating it.

Major Vivian Lockett is much of a favorite with many experts for the fourth man on the English team. It is certain he will be held in reserve should any accident happen, even if he should not play in the opening games.

Still, it looks as though the English side will line up as Buckmaster, Barrett, Traill and Wise—with the choice in reserve. It may be that a "dark horse" will be chosen at the last moment, but the form of the best players is so well known that the above is figured as about the side which will contest the Americans for the honor of the Polo Championship.

One more thing which has struck the British public is the sporting way in which the Americans have met their adversaries and they have won golden opinions from all who have come in contact with them.

So, even if America does not win, it will at least have done much, by means of its polo team to cement the bonds of friendship between the two countries.

History of Polo

The international polo cup was originally offered back in 1886 as an international challenge cup by the Westchester Polo Club, of Newport, R. I., open not only to Great Britain, but also the world of polo, although hitherto only British teams have entered into competition for it. The first match was won by England in 1900, and again in 1902 American teams came over, only to meet defeat. In 1909, however Harry Payne Whitney gathered together what was ever after known as the "Big Four" and by long tuition and hard work evolved the almost technically perfect, hard hitting, hard riding game that is an essentially American development, as opposed to the slower, more strategic game of the British. In a whirlwind tournament this team won the first game by 9 goals to 5, and the second by 8 goals to 2, thus carrying the cup back to America. This victory revolutionized British ideas regarding polo and many changes in tactics were the result—although to-day the national methods of play are still very wide apart.

In 1911 a British team invaded America, to be defeated by 4 1-2 goals to 3, and by 4 1-2 goals to 3 1-2 goals, both margins of victory being exceedingly narrow. Again, in 1913, America won by 5 goals to 3 and by 4 1-2 to 4 1-2 goals, thus showing in the 1911 and 1913 games that the British are slowly but surely catching on to the American game. Then the playing knell sounded for Harry Payne Whitney, who was replaced by Rene La Montagne in the 1914 tournament—when the British team, consisting of Captain H. A. Tomkinson, Captain Leslie St. G. Cheape, Captain F. W. Barrett and Captain Vivian Lockett, won at Meadow Brook by 3 1-2 goals to 3 and by 4 to 2 3-4 in possibly the hardest fought and most spectacular game of polo ever played in the polo history of the world.

Then the "Big Four" dissolved, leaving only Devereux Milburn as a tower of strength to bide over the interregnum of the war and to build another American team—the one consisting of four men to be chosen from Louis E. Stoddard, C. C. Rumsey, J. Watson Webb, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Earl W. Hopping and, of course, Mr. Milburn himself, to challenge for the trophy this year and come to England to play.

Early in December 1917 fifty American ponies arrived in England in splendid condition and were at once transported to Salisbury Plain, their only work for months being exercising under blankets on "the 'ard 'igh road."

The ponies wintered well and from the manner in which they performed in all the preliminary matches played by the Americans since arriving on English soil, nothing is to be feared from this source.

PERMIT ASKED FOR A BUS LINE IN GLENDALE

A matter of business of especial interest and importance to the public which came before the City Trustees at their meeting Thursday night was a petition presented by Hal H. Davenport and C. A. Burnham for a permit to establish a two-line bus route in Glendale over the following streets.

Commencing at Broadway on Adams south to Acacia, west on Acacia to Boynton, south to Palmer, west to Glendale, south to Cypress and west to Brand Boulevard.

The other line to commence at Pacific and Burchette, south to California, east to Columbus, south to Broadway, west to Pacific, south to San Fernando, south to Cypress, and east to Brand Boulevard, the operation to begin on or before ninety days.

Mr. Davenport, who addressed the board stated that the permit was requested that they might try out the matter for six months after which they would be prepared to drop the proposition or ask for a franchise.

In view of a ruling which the City Attorney had made on a similar application on the part of Mr. Offutt, that no permit would be needed, the Board took no action but referred the application to City Attorney Shaw for a further opinion, the city attorney not being present.

"YUCCA HOUNDS" DENUDING HILLS

"Yucca hounds," in motor cars are denuding the hills of one of the state's most picturesque features, according to officials of the Automobile club of Southern California, in a statewide announcement just issued.

From San Diego and Imperial counties on the south to San Luis Obispo on the north and including all the territory between—thousands of motoring parties at this season are busily engaged in plucking the huge yucca blossoms from the hill sides.

That more than 5000 of the big blooms were carried through a single city in the southern part of the state is testimony offered by Automobile club officials to the fact that soon there will be no yucca blooming on local hills.

Eastern visitors declare that the yucca in the summer season is one of the most interesting sights Southern California has to offer the motorist. Thousands of letters are written to eastern friends by visitors here every year describing the beauty of this native plant, and boosting the state at the same time.

It is explained, by naturalists, to the Automobile club that the yucca plant blooms but once and then dies. Its blossoms are the seeds and if the blossoms are carried from the hills, there will be no more seeds and soon no more yucca plants.

It is further pointed out that the giant blossoms are far less beautiful when carried home for they droop and fade immediately that they are cut.

There is no law at the present time in California which is adequate to stop the picking of these flowers and so the Automobile club, through its thousands of public spirited members, asks that all motorists exercise their willpower and refrain from picking any yuccas whatsoever. Leave them on the hillsides for the eastern visitors to admire from the highways.

Economy in the administration of the nation's public business should result in more money in the pocket of the individual citizen.

"STRIPPER" NEW TYPE OF THIEF

If local residents are suddenly awakened by the sound of shotguns it may be because detectives from the Automobile club of Southern California are pot-shooting a new type of auto thief.

In other words, Automobile club officials announce that the war on auto thieves this summer is to actually be carried on with sawed-off shot guns as the weapons to be used by representatives of the club's theft bureau throughout the southern part of the state.

The type of thief to gain particular attention of the club is known as the "stripper." His activity consists in stealing a car from the street of some city or town, driving it to a private garage, which he has already rented, and there tearing it apart little by little and selling the parts in nearby markets.

According to club officials no leniency will be shown this type of thief or the thief who steals tires from cars parked in country lanes or at the beaches. It seems that tire-strippers are becoming very active in Southern California and unless they submit to arrest when caught in the act by auto club detectives, the sawed-off shot guns recently purchased by the club will be brought into play.

That the shot gun threat is not an idle one is attested to by local club representative M. B. Tomman, who states that the club can show receipts for the purchase of the guns which will hereafter be carried in every club car used for the pursuit of auto thieves.

Private garage owners who rent their garages to strangers and observe any suspicious actions on the part of these strangers are requested to notify the nearest office of the Auto club so that an investigation can be made at once to see if they are auto thieves at work.

Work on the following buildings is about finished: W. C. Holywell, Sixth and Grand View; Paul Lutze, 1229 Mariposa; George T. Delong, 503 Lincoln.

BIRTHS

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyle of 5101 Granada street, Los Angeles, at the Glendale sanitarium. The name bestowed upon the new arrival was Marjorie Catherine.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Pierce are now the proud father and mother of a baby girl.

There is a new arrival into the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller of Lancaster. The new arrival was born at a local hospital and is known as Daphne Elizabeth.

Small Brush Fire

The prompt work of the firemen at station No. 2 at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, prevented a small brush fire from burning a nearby garage at 105 East Palmer. The brush caught fire from a neighbor's trash pile and continued to grow larger until it was necessary to call the fire department.

THEATERS

Glendale Theatre

Eugene O'Brien reaches new dramatic heights in his latest Selznick picture, "Broadway and Home," the feature attraction at the Glendale Theatre today.

The story is an original by John Lynch, with Mr. O'Brien cast in role of Michael Strange, a youth who has been raised on the rugged sea coast of Maine. He has an ambition to see the world, and one day his wishes are gratified through the generosity of a friend of his dead father's, who feels compelled to pay a debt of gratitude to the son for a service rendered by his father. The friend is Paul Grayson, a wealthy artist who has lived life to the utmost, and it is not strange that the unsophisticated Michael should become intoxicated with the gaiety of the life Grayson shows him.

Palace Grand

That many animals possess not only minds, but also reason, is the rather startling claim made by James Oliver Curwood. And the author is warmly supported in this claim by Jane Novak, who has the leading feminine role in the screen version of his story, "Kazan," which is seen at the Palace Grand theatre.

This will shock some nature scientists of the old school, whose egoism will not allow them to concede that any living creature except man possesses reason," says Mr. Curwood. "The line between instinct and reason is very faintly drawn; the two overlap, so much so that very frequently animal 'instinct' is far superior to man's so-called reason."

And Miss Novak says: "I am absolutely convinced that Mr. Curwood is correct in his theory after working with the big wolf-dog who has the part of 'Kazan' in that picture. That dog could do everything but talk."

A Booth Tarkington comedy, "Edgar's Little Saw," and other attractions are included in this bill.

Tomorrow's and Monday's program at the Palace Grand feature Anita Stewart in her latest production, "Sowing the Wind."

BOLD MARINERS ARE LAID LOW

Eight bold mariners who thought they liked a life on the ocean wave and a home on the rolling deep left Glendale Thursday for Long Beach where they engaged a skipper and his boat to take them out for deep sea fishing. All went well for a while and each of the eight caught a respectable quota but the waves grew more and more rolling and six stout hearts and stomachs succumbed and rolled into the bottom of the boat. The two who were equal to the rough seas, J. B. and H. S. Burn continued to fish though the seas according to the skipper were the roughest he had ever experienced. Others in the party were R. F. Kitterman, S. P. Davis, A. C. Kase, A. L. Amos of Alhambra, Ferris Hupp and Dr. C. D. Lusby. All were reported as recuperating Friday but none very enthusiastic over the joys of fishing.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

In making an inventory of yourself in an effort to decide what sort of person you are, just analyze your general line of thought.

If you give this close and unbiased study you may be surprised—even shocked—by the sort of person you really are, because you cannot be better than your thoughts.

You may have pretty good control of your actions, but if your thoughts and actions do not track together you get very little comfort or personal gratification out of the fact that you are keeping your real self under control.

In your thinking moments, really, what thoughts most often course through your mind?

What would be your standing among your associates if they knew your real character?

If your thoughts are air castles, you will not do much that is practical.

If your form of religion is all you have to convince folk that you are a Christian you must know that you are offending the Creator.

If thoughts of revenge occupy your mind you should realize that you are allowing yourself to be criminally inclined.

THE BETTER SIDE

From all parts of the United States come reports telling of donations and relief aid being organized for the Pueblo flood sufferers. The calamity visited upon the citizens of the Colorado city has opened the hearts and pocketbooks of Americans everywhere. It is a convincing demonstration of the inherent better side of human nature. Individuals may display their sordid sides through political campaigns; they may appear greedy and grasping in business affairs; they may seem thoughtless and irresponsible in performing the routine tasks of life, but when a truly great crisis arises they respond with an overwhelming sympathy and generosity which renews the faith in mankind.

Poor Peggy Joyce sobs and says she has only about $25,000 to live on. But that ought to tide her over until she can marry another millionaire.

Holes in the street are warning against more holes. So are holes in the graveyard. Repairs in time will delay both.

After one has lived in a modern flat, that Jonah and whale story no longer seems improbable.

If automobile tires keep on coming down in price they will soon be cheaper than doughnuts.

Funny how some people feel so cultured when they learn to call it a sweet of furniture.

Few girls marry for money, but they find it rather easy to love a rich man.

One-half of the world doesn't know why the other half lives.

Nowadays a breath of suspicion makes one popular.

GRAVE AND GAY

A dear old lady who was staying near a state prison was exercised in her mind as to the physical and spiritual health of the convicts confined in the prison. Meeting a squad one day she asked the warden in charge if she might present them with some delicacies she had with her and a few tracts. The warden replied in the negative. Then she pleaded to be allowed to speak one word of admonition and comfort. "No, ma'am," said the warden. "It's against the regulations." "Oh, dear, dear," sighed the old lady; "but tell me, do you think they are all converted?" "Well, ma'am, I shouldn't like to say that," he answered. Then seeing her distressed face, he added: "But there's one thing I will say for them; they are all teetotalers and non smokers." And the old lady departed much comforted.

"Jinks," said the manager of the bank, "there'll be a vacancy at the head office shortly, and I'm thinking of nominating your twin brother for the job."

"My twin brother!" exclaimed Jinks. "But—"

"I mean the one I saw watching a ball game yesterday while you were at your aunt's funeral," said the manager.

"O—er—yes," said Jinks. "I remember! I—I'll go and hunt him!" "Good!" said the manager. "And don't come back till you've found him."

The firm of Hansen & Fransen was started in war time and did very well for a couple of years. But last year things were on the down grade, and the other day, when the two partners had finished up their none too good record for the year, Hansen said: "This would make anyone thoughtful. Now that the good times are over, how about a little honest business?" "No, thanks," said Fransen. "I never indulge in experiments."

"Sarah," said a woman to her servant, "I am very tired and am going to lie down for an hour. If I should happen to drop off call me at 5." "Yes, ma'am," replied Sarah. The woman reclined on the couch, closed her eyes and was soon in the land of dreams. She was awakened by the clock striking 6, and cried indignantly: "Sarah, why didn't you call me at 5 as I told you to do?" "Well, ma'am, you told me to call you if you dropped off. I looked in at 5 and you hadn't dropped off at all. You was lying on the couch in the same place fast asleep."

There had been a certain amount of breeziness in the discussion, which centered around the relative virtue and accomplishment of the two sexes. "You men," said the advanced young woman, "think a great deal of yourselves because you think there is a shortage of your kind. Personally, I should not mind in the least living in a world where the men and girls were separated by an ocean." The daring bachelor smiled at her. "I daresay you are right," he agreed. "Still, in the event you mention, I'm certain that there would be a large number of women drowned."

An American politician, who at one time served his country in a very high legislative place, passed away, and a number of newspaper men were collaborating on an obituary notice. "What shall we say of him?" asked one of the men. "Oh, just put down that he was always faithful to his trust." "Yes, answered another of the group, "that's all right, but are you going to give the name of the trust?"

Series of Articles on Patents, Inventions, Etc.

By WILLIAM C. CUTLER of Glendale, California

TRADE-MARKS
A well-known trade-mark on a profitable product is more valuable than most patents. Who can say what such words as "Coca Cola," "Royal," "Kodak," "Unceda," "Ivory," etc., are worth. The owners consider them as assets worth millions, and they are not far wrong in their impression. What would a beverage sold under the first trade-mark be worth if it was re-named—nothing you may suggest? The answer is it would be practically valueless.

With such evidence it seems singular that there have not been more marks registered; for nearly every salable article is capable of being marketed under a registerable trade-mark. One reason is, that concerns are not conversant with court decision on the subject; another, that they are not aware of unsatisfactory situations that constantly arise in trade-mark matters. For example, the adoption of the descriptive word "Rubberoid," meaning like rubber, opened the manufacturers to competition from any quarter, and it was declared invalid. Thousands of descriptive words are being utilized as common law (as distinguished from registered), trade-marks. These are all sooner or later liable to cause trouble for their owners, who can neither protect them by registration, nor protect them under common law.

In closing I will say, I have been as careful as possible to select reliable and valuable information for those interested in this subject; and to many readers there may be a desire to secure further information on such subjects as "Unfair Competition," "Assignments," "Licenses," "Shop Rights," "Litigation," "Infringements," "Injunctions," "Selling patents," "Suggestions on Manufacturing," etc. Those I would advise to write the commissioner of patents, Washington, D. C., for "Rules of Practice," in the United States patent office, and to Henry C. Thomson of Boston, Mass., pertaining to his book on Patents, Trade-Marks, Design Patents, etc. This book is very complete and instructive.

Most every mail brings letters to me pertaining to the subject of patents and inventions, and it is surprising to know the number of people interested, especially in patents and patent law. It would not be practical for me to answer all this mail, I would therefore again advise all interested, to save these articles for future reference.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

CLOISTERED CONVENT

GIRL NOW SCREEN STAR

Jane Novak, who is seen in the leading feminine role of "Kazan," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's virile story of the north, was born in St. Louis, Mo., and educated at Notre Dame convent. Before entering motion pictures she had two years of experience on the stage, during which time she played in vaudeville, musical comedy and stock. Her screen career started with Clune productions, her first big part being in "Eyes of the World." She was then for some time leading lady for William S. Hart. Later she went to Ince, appearing in "A Nine o'Clock Town," "String Beans" and "Wagon Tracks." More recently she has been seen in Marshall Neilan's production of "The River's End," also a James Oliver Curwood story. Miss Novak is five feet seven inches in height and weighs 135 pounds. She has blond hair and blue eyes. Her home is in Los Angeles.

HOLLYWOOD IS INTERESTED

All Hollywood is interested in Wanda Hawley's current picture, "Her Face Value." It is an adaptation of the Earl Derr Bigger story, "The Girl Who Paid Dividends," the particular girl being a motion picture actress who is the "angel" of a very lazy household and who in spite of many seemingly unsurmountable obstacles is reconciled to her husband in a most novel and dramatic way. There are many girls in Hollywood who pay dividends in much the same way that Wanda is paying them in the film.

REAL FILM THRILL

One of the biggest night scenes that has ever been made for a motion picture occurs in the Selznick picture, "Broadway and Home," starring Eugene O'Brien.

Over 2000 persons from Boston, Salem, Lynn, Beverly and Gloucester, Mass., crowded the sea wall in Gloucester to witness the staging of this scene when the picture was in course of production.

The scene shows the blowing up of a yacht after it had crashed on the rocks after a terrific storm. In order to create the desired effect, a new double generating set, the largest owned by any motion picture company, and the entire fire department of Gloucester were used.

To blow up a yacht a fuse, timed for six minutes, was placed, but the film in the camera was only enough to last a four minute grind. A few turns were made every few seconds, but at the end of six minutes the explosion did not come. It came four minutes later, however, and the three cameras focused on the yacht had just enough negative left in their magazines to get the picture.

Alan Crosland, who directed the picture, says that the last four minutes were the longest in his entire existence.

Charming little Gladys Walton, who won her way into the hearts of theatergoers by her appealing performance of the circus girl in "Pink Tights" and who has since clinched her hold on the public's affection in a series of successful photodramas, is again tugging at the heartstrings of the local movie fans by her charming work in "Desperate Youth," the Universal photoplay based on F. Hopkinson Smith's novel, "A Kentucky Cinderella."

The Manning home in Wilmington, Calif., said to be the finest example of old Southern architecture west of the Mississippi river, was loaned to the Universal company for ten days for a series of important scenes in this photodrama. With Gladys Walton, the youngest star on the screen, are Muriel Godfrey Turner, formerly famous as a dramatic star on the British stage, and Hazel Howell, popular on the New York musical comedy stage a few years ago, who have the principal feminine roles. The picture is directed by Harry B. Harris.

"Broadway and Home," is both the title and the locale of Eugene O'Brien's latest Selznick picture. In this, Mr. O'Brien is seen in another virile role, which affords great scope for the display of his talents. He is excellent both as the sturdy man of the sea and later as a blase New Yorker.

The story, by John Lynch, has been directed by Alan Crosland with more than ordinary skill. An extra line supporting cast, including Elinor Fair, Frank Losee, Eileen Cassidy and Warren Cook, surround the star.

DEMAND FOR LOTS AND NEW HOUSES

F. W. Parr reports a lively demand for lots which are being purchased for improvement with homes and not for speculation. This means, he says, that there will be no slackening in building operations this summer. Mr. Bentley of Bentley-Schoeneman company reports that wages of carpenters here and in Los Angeles are keeping up because of the great demand for such labor although they have fallen in many other places.

Movement of Teachers

Mrs. Williams, one of the teachers in the Broadway school and her husband are planning an auto trip to Colorado to visit the home of Mr. Williams' brother.

Miss Matthews of the Broadway school left yesterday for Yosemite.

Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, principal of the Broadway school, who had a severe attack of neuritis and was taken to the Glendale sanitarium, is improving and hopes to be well enough to go home before long. She had to miss the last week of school.

C. E. CONVENTION
OFFICIAL BADGES

Unique and rich in significance are the official badges of the coming Christian Endeavor convention, which have arrived in Glendale.

On a white disk surrounded by a gold colored rim, appear the letters C. E. in blue. Around the rim runs the legend "34th Annual Convention." The California bear surmounts the disk, pendent from which is the brown sombrero with the words Glendale, 1921, in gold color.

Four thousand badges were bought and they cost 20 cents apiece. They admit the wearer to the sessions of the convention. At the evening session, after the hour of 7:45, the general public is admitted, if there are any seats left.

It is announced that the New Haven will cut freight rates on crushed rock. Does this apply to the rocks in the anthracite?
